

A Fascinating Journey Behind the Scenes in Theater, Television and Cinema

Lectures & Workshops with Ron Ninio

Lectures & Workshops with Ron Ninio

Lectures and workshops exploring the creative processes behind films, television series and stage productions, alongside discussions of social issues, the relationship between culture and storytelling, and personal narratives. The sessions are tailored to different audiences and take place in cultural institutions, educational settings and academic venues across Israel.

Ron Ninio is an Israeli director (Distance, Your Honor), theater director (An Enemy of the People), filmmaker (Farewell Column, There Were Nights), television creator (No April Fool, The Stage Fright) and Head of the Acting Department at Beit Zvi School of Performing Arts.

■ The International Success of the Series YOUR HONOR

The acclaimed Israeli drama YOUR HONOR premiered on Yes and went on to become the most successful adapted scripted series world wide, with 15 remakes so far; the American adaptation starring Bryan Cranston ("Breaking Bad"). This lecture explores the storytelling principles that enabled an Israeli series to transcend cultures and borders, offering an in-depth look at the writing, directing and production processes behind both the original series and its international adaptations (selected clips will be screened).

■ Film & Television – Behind the Scenes

The making of a film: From the first screenplay draft through casting, cinematography, editing and musical score, this lecture offers a comprehensive look at the creative process of film magic.

■ Behind the Scenes of the Theater

How is a stage production created? From selecting the play, casting the actors to rehearsals, set design, costumes and music, this lecture reveals the artistic journey behind a theatrical production through engaging examples.

■ Theater Games Workshop for All Ages

An interactive workshop featuring theater games and improvisation exercises. An enjoyable, liberating, surprising and highly engaging experience.

■ Drama Sessions for Theater & Film Enthusiasts

What lies beneath the word 'drama'? What creates a dramatic conflict? The lectures include screenings and discussions of memorable scenes from acclaimed films, television series and theater productions.

■ Film Screenings & Conversations with the Creator

Screenings of Ninio's acclaimed feature film FAREWELL COLUMN (TUR PREDA) and his autobiographical film THERE WERE NIGHTS (HAYU LEILOT), followed by an intimate conversation with the audience about the creative process and the relationship between cinema and real life.
